This portion of the 2018 Nats has been dedicated as the John Schroder Scale Aerobatics Championships 2018.

RC SCALE AEROBATICS

Welcome to the John Schroder Scale Aerobatics Championships 2018. This is the 92nd annual National Aeromodeling Championships. Your Event Director is Doug Pilcher, director of the South-Central region.

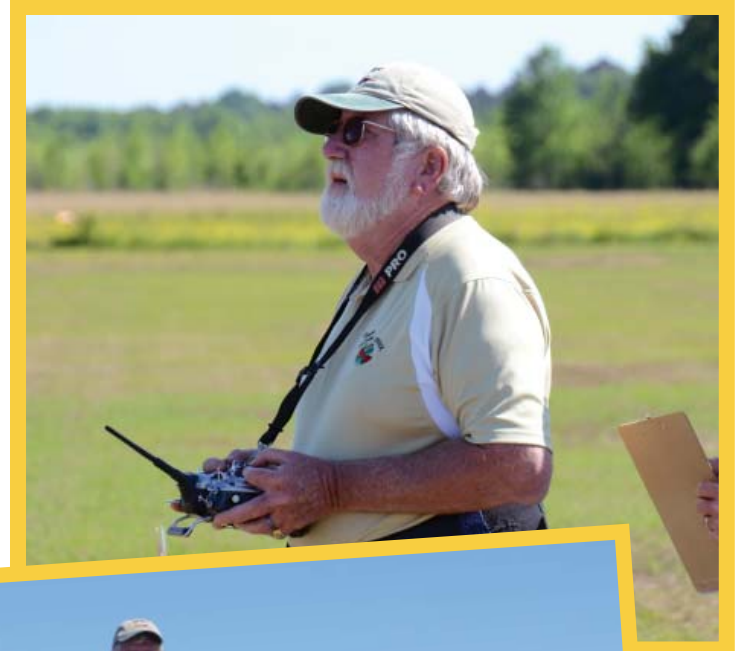

As you can see above, the competition has been renamed this year in honor of the loss of a great friend of the International Miniature Aerobatic Club (IMAC), John Schroder. This event is sure to be a time for competition, remembrance, and celebration. Everyone who competes in this year's event will receive a participation plaque to commemorate John "Big John" Schroder. There will also be a special time to get together and remember Big John as a group.

The Monday evening pilots' meeting started with some refresher of the judging standards, flightline processes, and thanks to all who help make the Nats possible every year.

Tuesday morning started with a short pilots' meeting, then we planned to have a special flight flown by David Moser and the Clover Creek kids to honor Big John and give an IMAC interpretation of the Missing Man flight.

Then, as John would have wanted ...wheels up! 🛩️
